David grew up on his family's registered Holstein farm, Crackholm Holsteins, in Richmond, Quebec, which he currently owns and operates with his two children Savannah, 16, and Kolton, 14. Crackholm Holsteins is a two-time Master Breeder Herd. David and his family have been fortunate to have over 30 All-Canadian or All-American nominations in the last 10 years, including 14 All-Canadian, All-American or Reserve All-Canadian, All-American winners in that time. At World Dairy Expo in 2016 David and his family were proud to be part owners of both the Reserve and Honorable Mention Intermediate Champion Holsteins. David has been an official judge since 2000 and has had had the opportunity to judge across Canada, in the U.S., as well as in 22 countries around the world. David also was an associate judge at the 2011 Royal Winter Fair Holstein Show with Brian Carscadden as well as associate judge at World Dairy Expo Red & White Holstein show with Callum McKinven in 2014. David has a real passion for judging whether it be a National, International, Local or Regional show, and he enjoys judging conformation classes as well as youth shows and showmanship. He has judged showmanship at the largest youth show in Canada the TD Classic as well as Showmanship at World Dairy Expo. David credits his parents for instilling the passion for great cows and he is passing that down to his children who are just as passionate and always showing when they can, including at World Dairy Expo and the Royal.
