Michael Wolf grew up as the fourth generation on his family dairy, R-E-W Farm, in Lebanon, CT. Through the work that Michael has done with his brother Max and father Marc, R-E-W Farm has been involved with 18 nominated animals including Jr. & Open All-Americans and All-Canadians and is the home of some household names such as Buckeye, Sever, Maple Dixie, Facebook Paris, Happy Go Lucky, and Charlene. Michael graduated from the University of Connecticut (majoring in applied & resource economics) where he was a member of their collegiate judging team. Through competing in many dairy judging contests Michael has gathered awards including placing as the high individual of the Guernsey's at both the Harrisburg and World Dairy Expo judging contests, and at the International Collegiate Judging contest (at World Dairy Expo) placed sixth in the Holstein breed and earned the title of being an All-American. Additionally, Michael has been selected to serve as the Judging Shadow at the Northeast All-Breeds Spring Show multiple times where he has trained and been mentored in the ring by world renowned judges. Having had success himself in youth shows, Michael enjoys the opportunity to get to work with today's youth to enhance the industry through judging both breed shows and showmanship. Outside of the showring, Michael works for the CT Department of Agriculture, and is the C.O.O at Wolf Auction Group where he fuels his other passion for marketing and selling some of the dairy industry's finest.
